At the request of Clearing Member, Cboe Clear may combine the Securities Clearing House Position Account and the SFT Clearing House Position Account of Clearing Member into one single Position Account for the purpose of the calculation and requirement of the net amount of Margin required from such Clearing Member across Securities Clearing and SFT Clearing.

6.11 Margin in relation to SFT Positions

Both Initial Margin and Variation Margin in relation to SFTs, will only be calculated and required in respect of such SFT from the time that the Opening Leg is settled to the time when the Closing Leg has settled.

6.12 RQV Assets

RQV Assets do not constitute Margin and vice versa and the terms and conditions of this article 6 do not apply to RQV Assets.

7. Default Fund

7.1 Default Fund

Cboe Clear has established and shall maintain a Default Fund. DF Contributions and the assets of the Default Fund shall be held by Cboe Clear in its own name and capacity and shall be the sole property of Cboe Clear.

7.2 DF Contribution

The Default Fund will be funded with the DF Contribution provided by Clearing Members (other than Special Clearing Members). Cboe Clear will on a daily basis calculate the required amount of the DF Contribution Value of a Clearing Member and if the required amount of the DF Contribution Value of the Clearing Member is higher than the DF Contribution Value of the Clearing Member, call DF Contribution from the Clearing Member. The method by which Cboe Clear will calculate the required DF Contribution Value is set out in Regulation Default Fund. The currencies and securities that are eligible to be provided as DF Contribution, together with applicable haircuts and concentration limits are specified in Regulation Acceptable Collateral. The procedures and requirements relating to the provision of DF Contribution and the return of excess DF Contribution Value, are specified in Regulation Collateral.

7.3 DF Contribution in the form of cash

DF Contribution that Cboe Clear receives from Clearing Member in the form of cash, may be invested by Cboe Clear in accordance with its investment policy.

7.4 Default Handling Period and Cooling-Off Period

7.4.1 During each Default Handling Period and each Cooling-Off Period:

- a) the provisions of article 7.2 of this chapter 1 shall not apply; and
- b) requirements to provide or return DF Contributions shall be subject to the terms of article 7.8, article 7.9 and/or article 17.1(a) of this chapter 1.

7.4.2 Notwithstanding article 7.4.1 of this chapter 1, if, during any Default Handling Period or any Cooling-Off Period, the DF Contribution Value of a Clearing Member is or becomes less than the required amount of DF Contribution that Clearing Member is required to provide pursuant to Regulation Default Fund, such Clearing Member shall promptly, upon Notice from Cboe Clear, provide additional DF Contribution to Cboe Clear in such an amount as is necessary to cure such shortfall.

7.5 Use of the Default Fund

Cboe Clear is entitled to make use of assets of the Default Fund for liquidity purposes or otherwise, which does not constitute an application of the Default Fund and may, but does not have to be, in relation to the handling of the default of a Clearing Member. Such use by Cboe Clear of assets of the Default Fund will not reduce the DF Contribution Value of any Clearing Member (or, for the avoidance of doubt, the amount of assets Cboe Clear is required to return to that Clearing Member after full settlement of all Positions, fees and costs between Cboe Clear and the Clearing Member).

7.6 Application of Default Fund

Cboe Clear may only apply the Default Fund in accordance with and for the purposes as specified in the Clearing Rules.

7.7 Attribution of applied amounts of the Default Fund

7.7.1 In the situation where Cboe Clear instructs non-Defaulting Clearing Members to participate in an auction to enable Cboe Clear to enter into Positions replacing the Positions of the Defaulting Clearing Member, losses of Cboe Clear pursuant to such auction, that Cboe Clear recovers from the Default Fund, will (after having been attributed by Cboe Clear to the DF Contribution Value of the Defaulting Clearing Member in accordance with article 14.10 of this chapter 1) be attributed by Cboe Clear to the DF Contribution Value of Clearing Members in the following order:

- a) first, to the DF Contribution Value of those non-Defaulting Clearing Members who were mandated to participate but who did not Bid in the auction or who Bid in the auction, but whose Bids were not accepted by Cboe Clear. Losses will be attributed to the DF Contribution of each such non-~~defaulting~~Defaulting Clearing Member pro rata to the value of such Clearing Member's DF Contribution Value in relation to the aggregate Contribution Value received by Cboe Clear from all Clearing Members;
- b) second, to the DF Contribution Value of each Clearing Member who were mandated to participate and who submitted an inferior Bid belowto the winning Bid where:
 - i. if the Attributable Loss of each such Clearing Member is less than or equal to its remaining DF Contribution Value, then Cboe Clear will, in respect of each such Clearing Member, attribute losses equal to the Attributable Loss applicable to such Clearing Member to its remaining DF Contribution Value; or
 - ii. if the Attributable Loss applicable to one or more such Clearing Members is greater than its remaining DF Contribution Value, Cboe Clear will attribute losses to all remaining DF Contribution Values of such Clearing Members only pro rata to the value of each such Clearing Member's DF Contribution Value in relation to the aggregate Contribution Value of all such Clearing Members;
- c) third, to the remaining DF Contribution Value of the non-~~defaulting~~Defaulting Clearing Member who submitted the winning Bid, together with (where applicable) the remaining DF Contribution Values of any non-~~defaulting~~Defaulting Clearing Member mandated to participate and who submitted a Bid which was accepted by Cboe Clear and equal~~was not inferior to, or greater than,~~ the winning Bid. Losses will be attributed to the DF Contribution Value of each such non-~~defaulting~~Defaulting Clearing Member pro rata according to the proportion that such Clearing Member's DF Contribution Value bears to the aggregate DF Contribution Value of: (i) the Clearing Member who submitted the winning Bid; (ii) any Clearing Members who submitted Bids (which were accepted by Cboe Clear) equal to such winning Bid and (iii) any Clearing Members who submitted Bids (which were accepted by Cboe Clear) greater than~~that were not~~ inferior to such winning Bid; and

- d) any remaining loss will be attributed pro rata to the remaining value of the DF Contribution Value of all Clearing Members.

7.7.2 For the purpose of this article 7.7, Securities Clearing and SFT Clearing together are deemed to be one single Clearing Service.

7.8 Top-up of DF Contribution

If (whether after delivery of Additional DF Contribution in relation to the same Default of a Clearing Member or not) the whole or a part of the Default Fund is used in relation to the Default of a Clearing Member and not immediately reimbursed by the Defaulting Clearing Member, then each other Clearing Member shall at the first request of Cboe Clear deliver an amount of DF Contribution equal to the amount of its DF Contribution Value that has been used, calculated in accordance with the share of its DF Contribution Value in the Default Fund immediately before the occurrence of the Default (or Defaults, in case more than one Clearing Member has been declared in Default) but not taking the DF Contribution Value of the Defaulting Clearing Member into account, to top-up the Default Fund. Any such top-up payment shall not be used to cover the losses of Cboe Clear in relation to the Default of the Clearing Member, which originally caused the deficiency that made the top-up payment necessary. Cboe Clear shall notify each Clearing Member of the deadline as to when such DF Contribution must be provided.

7.9 Pro rata share after termination

On termination of the Clearing Member Agreement and after full settlement of all Positions, fees and costs between Clearing Member and Cboe Clear and provided no outstanding obligations ~~being owned~~ are owed by Clearing Member to Cboe Clear, Clearing Member will be entitled to receive payment of cash or delivery of securities equal to its DF Contribution Value. Cboe Clear shall pay or deliver the required amount of cash or securities as soon as reasonably possible after the full settlement of such Positions, fees and costs. Cboe Clear may, acting reasonably, make such deductions from that amount as it deems necessary to cover for foreseeable future losses that may have to be covered from the Default Fund. If Cboe Clear makes a deduction, Cboe Clear will provide Clearing Member with the reason for such deduction. Cboe Clear will pay or deliver the amount of the deduction to Clearing Member promptly when the reason for such deduction no longer exists, as reasonably determined by Cboe Clear.

7.10 Special Clearing Members

Special Clearing Members do not have to provide DF Contribution and the terms and conditions of this article 7 do not apply to Special Clearing Members.

8. Fees, costs and penalties

8.1 Regulation Fees and Penalties

Clearing Members shall pay to Cboe Clear the costs, fees and penalties as set out in Regulation Fees and Penalties. The costs, fees and penalties (together with applicable VAT) to be paid by Clearing Member in relation to a calendar month will be invoiced on or before the day as set out in Regulation Fees and Penalties of the following calendar month by Cboe Clear in euro or any other currency as approved by Cboe Clear.

8.2 Investment Loss

- 8.2.1 Cboe Clear is entitled to recover from its Clearing Members Investment Losses incurred by Cboe Clear (subject to its obligation to hold capital in accordance with Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) No 152/2013 of 19 December 2012 with regard to regulatory technical standards on capital requirements for central counterparties).
- 8.2.2 Cboe Clear will allocate the Investment Loss related to Margin to Clearing Member, pro rata to the amount of Margin provided by Clearing Member in the form of cash divided by the aggregate amount of Margin received by Cboe Clear in the form of cash during the period that the Investment Loss arose. Cboe Clear will deduct the allocated amount from the amount of Margin provided by Clearing Member.
- 8.2.3 Cboe Clear will allocate the Investment Loss related to DF Contribution to Clearing Member, pro rata to the amount of DF Contribution provided by Clearing Member in the form of cash divided by the aggregate amount of DF Contribution received by Cboe Clear in the form of cash during the period that the Investment Loss arose. Cboe Clear will deduct the allocated amount from the DF Contribution Value of Clearing Member.
- 8.2.4 Cboe Clear will allocate the Investment Loss related to IF Contribution to Clearing Member, pro rata to the amount of IF Contribution provided by Clearing Member in the form of cash divided by the aggregate amount of IF Contribution received by Cboe Clear in the form of cash during the period that the Investment Loss arose. Cboe Clear will deduct the allocated amount from the amount of IF Contribution provided by Clearing Member.
- 8.2.5 If Cboe Clear recovers any Investment Loss after the exercise of its rights under this article 8.2, Cboe Clear shall distribute the net proceeds of such recovery pro rata to the amount paid by each Clearing Member.

8.3 Other costs

Costs that are due to Cboe Clear under the Clearing Member Agreement but that are not included in Regulation Fees and Penalties, will be separately invoiced by Cboe Clear.

9. Tax

9.1 Tax deductions

Clearing Member shall make all payments and deliveries to Cboe Clear without any deduction or withholding for or on account of any tax or otherwise, unless such deduction or withholding is required by applicable law.

9.2 Gross up

If Clearing Member is required to make any deduction or withholding from a payment or delivery to be made by Clearing Member under the Clearing Member Agreement, Clearing Member shall:

- a) promptly inform Cboe Clear;
- b) procure the correct payment of the required deduction or withholding;
and
- c) pay or deliver to Cboe Clear such additional amount as is necessary to procure that the amount actually received by Cboe Clear is equal to the amount that Cboe Clear would have received if no such deduction or withholding had been required.

9.3 Tax

9.3.1 Cboe Clear will deduct (and withhold) from any amount payable to a Clearing Member (or an Agent on their behalf) pursuant the Rules (including any Manufactured Dividend Payment) or any amount deemed paid for applicable Tax purposes any amount that Cboe Clear is required to deduct and withhold in respect of Taxes (including US Taxes) pursuant to applicable laws and regulations as aligned to applicable withholding rates in accordance with tax documentation held on file for such Clearing Member or its Agent, as applicable.

9.3.2 Each Clearing Member (or Agent acting on its behalf) who may be entitled to receive such payments:

d) with a specific rate of deduction and withholding; or

e) without any deduction or withholding.

may submit to Cboe Clear confirmation, forms, documentation or other information requested by Cboe Clear (in form and substance satisfactory to Cboe Clear) demonstrating such Clearing Member's (or Agent's acting on its behalf) entitlement to such treatment in respect of deduction and withholding in respect of any Taxes (including US Taxes) for US Tax and Cboe Clear may treat any such Clearing Member (or Agent acting on its behalf) as not entitled to such treatment in respect of such deduction and withholding until Cboe Clear is satisfied with the requested confirmation, forms, documentation or other information.

9.3.3 If any confirmation, forms, documentation or other information provided to Cboe Clear pursuant to art 9.3.2 above is or becomes materially inaccurate or incomplete, that Clearing Member (or Agent, as applicable) shall promptly update it and provide such updated confirmation, forms, documentation or other information to Cboe Clear.

9.3.4 Cboe Clear may rely on any confirmation, forms, documentation, other information, withholding certificate, withholding statement, authorisation or waiver it receives from a Clearing Member or Agent pursuant to art 9.3.2 above without further verification.

9.3.5 Cboe Clear shall not be liable for any action taken by it under or in connection with section 9.3.

9.3.6 Each Clearing Member hereby acknowledges that Cboe Clear may report any payments made or deemed made pursuant to SFTs, as well as any deductions and withholdings that it has made in respect of Taxes (including the rates set for each Clearing Member) to the US Internal Revenue Service or other applicable tax authorities.

9.3.7 If Cboe Clear is required by any applicable law or regulation to make any deduction or withholding in respect of Taxes in respect of a payment made or deemed made under any SFT, Cboe Clear does not so deduct and withhold, and a liability resulting from such Taxes is assessed directly against Cboe Clear or its affiliates, then the Clearing Member that receives or is deemed to receive such payment (including via its Agent) will promptly pay to Cboe Clear the amount of such liability (including any related liability for interest and penalties) upon written request by Cboe Clear.

10. Data and information

10.1 Request for information

At the first request of Cboe Clear, Clearing Member will provide such information about itself and its provision of clearing services to Clients of Clearing Members as may reasonably be requested by Cboe Clear. Such information may include information about the structure, policies, processes, administration, services, service providers ~~and direct and indirect Clients of~~ direct and indirect Clients of Clearing Member, its status as a US Person, the status as a US Person of the Trading Participants of such Clearing Member and the status as a US Person of the direct and indirect Clients of such Clearing Member.

10.2 Personal data

Parties agree that personal data that may be exchanged between Parties under or in connection with the Clearing Member Agreement, may, where such is necessary for a Party for the performance of its obligations under the Clearing Member Agreement be processed by either Party and be supplied to and processed by the third parties that a Party uses for the performance of its obligations under the Clearing Member Agreement. Personal data relating to Cboe Clear or Clearing Member may only be transferred to countries outside Europe where permitted by GDPR.

10.3 Competent Authorities

Where such is required, Cboe Clear may furnish any information relating to any Client, any Clearing Member and any Trading Participant to Competent Authorities.

10.4 Third parties

Subject to applicable data protection laws and regulations, Cboe Clear may furnish any information relating to any Client, any Clearing Member or any Trading Participant to third parties as may be required or necessary for the provision of the Clearing Services.

10.5 Group entities

Subject to applicable data protection laws and regulations, Cboe Clear may furnish information relating to Clearing Member and Clearing Member's use of Clearing Services to group entities or affiliates of Cboe Clear where such is necessary for purposes of planning, forecasting and efficient management. Such transfer of information is covered by an information sharing policy that precludes the sharing of sensitive commercial information.

10.6 Confidentiality

Any information shared between Parties pursuant to or in connection with the Clearing Member Agreement that reasonably may be deemed of a confidential nature, shall be kept confidential by the recipient irrespective of whether it is stipulated to be confidential or not. This obligation shall not apply:

- a) to any information received by the recipient from another source which it would otherwise be free to disclose;
- b) to any information which is or becomes public knowledge otherwise than by reason of a breach of confidentiality by the recipient; and
- c) to the extent that the recipient is required to disclose information pursuant to any law or order of any government, court or Competent Authority.

10.7 Use of information

Other than where permitted pursuant to this article 10 or where used by Cboe Clear in an anonymised form, any information shared between Parties pursuant to or in connection with the Clearing Member Agreement, may not be used by the recipient, other than for the purpose for which it has been shared.

11. Duty of care and liability of Cboe Clear

11.1 Duty of care and limitation of liability

11.1.1 Cboe Clear shall act fairly and professionally, taking the interests of its Clearing Members into account and shall take all reasonable care in the provision of its Clearing Services.

11.1.2 For loss that occurs in respect of any obligation other than a delivery or payment obligation, the liability of Cboe Clear will in all circumstances be limited to loss that is the direct and foreseeable result of gross negligence ('grove schuld') or intentional default ('opzettelijke tekortkoming') that is attributable to Cboe Clear and will not include consequential loss suffered by Clearing Member nor loss that could have been mitigated by Clearing Member, such as loss that could have been avoided if Clearing Member would have timely monitored the information received from Cboe Clear and promptly would have informed Cboe Clear of the error as required under article 4.9 of this chapter 1.

11.2 Use of third parties

Cboe Clear shall take all reasonable care in the selection and monitoring of any third party that Cboe Clear makes use of in relation to its Clearing Services. Notwithstanding the limitation of liability agreed upon in article 11.1 of this chapter 1, in the event that any such third party has caused any loss or damage to Clearing Member and Cboe Clear has a stronger position to claim damages from that third party, Cboe Clear will reasonably endeavour to obtain compensation from the third party. Such reasonable endeavour will however not include an obligation to take legal proceedings via a court or otherwise. Cboe Clear accepts liability to Clearing Member for, at maximum, the amount that is actually recovered by Cboe Clear from that third party less the amount of Cboe Clear's own loss, costs or damage.

11.3 Loss arising due to breach by a Clearing Member, performance failures and Force Majeure

11.3.1 In no circumstance shall Cboe Clear incur any liability for any breach of the Clearing Rules by a Clearing Member towards other Clearing Members.

Cboe Clear shall not incur any liability for any breach of a Clearing Member's obligation, under the relevant applicable law, to segregate clients and non-clients assets, notably in securities settlement systems, at custodians, or CSDs.

11.3.2 Other than any indirect or consequential loss, Cboe Clear shall be liable for damage arising from non-compliance with its delivery or payment obligations under the Clearing Rules in respect of Positions it has entered into with Clearing Members unless such non-compliance is the result of a Force Majeure event or due to the failure of Trading Venues, platforms, custodians, (central) securities depositaries, security settlement services, TPCAs and other third parties. In the event of the occurrence of Force Majeure or the danger of Force Majeure occurring, Cboe Clear or Clearing Members, as the case may be, will take such measures as may be reasonably demanded of them in order to limit as much as possible the detrimental consequences for the other party resulting from these circumstances.

11.4 Laws and regulations

Clearing Member accepts that Cboe Clear is not obligated to provide its services when Cboe Clear, in its reasonable opinion, determines that providing its services will violate any applicable law or regulation. Clearing Members shall at all times comply with applicable law and regulation, including any transaction reporting requirements, and any additional conditions and limitations imposed upon recognition.

12. Duty of care, liability and indemnification of Clearing Member

12.1 Duty of care

Clearing Member shall make use of the services of Cboe Clear in a professional, fair and prudent way, taking the interest of Cboe Clear, the other Clearing Members and of the market duly into account.

12.2 Liability

Clearing Member shall be liable for any loss, including any reasonable costs, but not including loss of profit and loss of opportunity, that Cboe Clear incurs due to the breach of contract, negligence, wilful default, or Default of Clearing Member or of any agent or other third party acting in the name of or for Clearing Member. Such loss shall include the amounts used by Cboe Clear out of the Default Fund and out of the dedicated own financial resources of Cboe Clear, after the Default of Clearing Member.

12.3 Failure to pay or deliver

Notwithstanding any other rights that Cboe Clear may have under the Clearing Rules or applicable laws and regulations, Cboe Clear will be entitled to charge the interest and penalties specified in Regulation Fees and Penalties to Clearing Member in relation to any failure of Clearing Member, or Agent on behalf of Special Clearing Member, to timely pay or deliver.

12.4 Indemnification

Clearing Member agrees to indemnify, and keep fully indemnified, (on an after tax basis) Cboe Clear for, and to hold Cboe Clear harmless against any and all losses which are sustained by Cboe Clear in connection with the provision of Clearing Services to Clearing Member, except to the extent that those losses are a direct result of negligence of Cboe Clear or an intentional act or omission on the part of Cboe Clear. Cboe Clear may enforce this indemnity directly against Clearing Member and shall not be obliged to first take action against any third party.

13. Breach of Clearing Member

13.1 Each of the following events or circumstances that occur in relation to Clearing Member, may be declared by Cboe Clear to constitute a Breach:

- a) Clearing Member fails to timely fulfil any payment or delivery obligation under the Clearing Member Agreement or fails to perform, or is in breach of, any of the other terms of the Clearing Member Agreement;
- b) Clearing Member appears to Cboe Clear (in its reasonable discretion) to be unable, or to be likely to become unable, to meet its obligations under the Clearing Member Agreement;
- c) Clearing Member is in breach of the rules of a Trading Venue or CSD;
- d) Clearing Member is in breach of applicable laws or regulations or the terms or rules of a Competent Authority and such breach impacts the ability of Clearing Member to comply with their obligations under the Clearing Rules (as determined by Cboe Clear in its reasonable discretion);
- e) a Competent Authority over a market where Cboe Clear is active takes or threatens to take disciplinary action against or in respect of Clearing Member;
- f) a petition is presented, or a petition is made for the winding up or liquidation of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity), or a resolution is passed for the winding up or liquidation of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity);
- g) a voluntary arrangement for the debts of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) is approved;
- h) a composition or scheme of arrangement in respect of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) is approved by a competent court;
- i) Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) takes any step to commence, or any steps are taken to commence in respect of Clearing Member, to commence any proceeding under the Wet homologatie onderhands akkoord;
- j) Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) is presented with, or files for, a bankruptcy petition or an order for the appointment of an administrator, a receiver (including an administrative receiver) or a manager;

- k) any of the insolvency proceedings listed in Annex A to Regulation (EU) 2015/848 of 20 May 2015 on Insolvency Proceedings (or any similar proceedings with a competent court or authority in a jurisdiction outside the EU) is requested, ordered or started in respect of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity);
- l) subject to article 13.2 of this chapter 1, any action is taken by a court or Competent Authority for the resolution of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) or any other emergency measure is taken by such parties in relation to Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity);
- m) any license or authorisation for a Clearing Member (or an individual compartment of a Clearing Member) to operate is cancelled or otherwise withdrawn;
- n) any step analogous to those mentioned in the foregoing paragraphs is taken in respect of Clearing Member (or, its Associated Entity) in any jurisdiction;
- o) (in respect of a Co-operating CCP) an event of default, however described, has occurred under the Link Agreement;
- p) failure by a Clearing Member to provide a Bid on an auction portfolio pursuant to article 5.8 of this chapter 1; and
- q) if there is filing of any application for the opening of procedures with regard to any Preventative Settlement or Restructuring or declaration of bankruptcy in respect of the Clearing Member under the Kuwait Bankruptcy Law.

For the avoidance of doubt, the events set out in article 13.1 of this chapter 1 shall apply mutatis mutandis to a sub-fund as though it were a distinct legal entity and with such modifications as are necessary to accommodate the fact that the sub-fund is not a company.

13.2 A resolution action as defined in Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 (or equivalent domestic legislation) shall (in itself) not constitute a Breach.

14. Clearing Member Default

14.1 Default

Upon the occurrence of a Breach in relation to Clearing Member and at each moment during the continuation of such Breach, Cboe Clear may, acting reasonably and proportionately in its sole discretion, declare Clearing Member in Default by sending a Notice to such Clearing Member in respect of that declaration (a “Notice of Default”).

14.2 Positions and Clearing Services

If Cboe Clear declares a Clearing Member in Default, such Default will apply in relation to all Positions of that Clearing Member and all Clearing Services that that Clearing Member makes use of, disregarding whether the Breach occurred in relation to Securities Clearing or in relation to SFT Clearing.

14.3 Notification to other parties

When Cboe Clear sends a Notice of Default to Clearing Member, Cboe Clear will promptly notify this to the relevant Trading Venues and SFT Posting Providers, the other Clearing Members, the relevant Competent Authorities and to such other parties as Cboe Clear deems necessary or useful.

14.4 Measures in case of a Default

Subject to the automatic early termination provisions in article 14.6 of this chapter 1, immediately after serving the Notice of Default to Clearing Member, Cboe Clear may take any one or more of the following measures, or any other measure as may be provided elsewhere in the Clearing Member Agreement or the Clearing Rules or as may be allowed pursuant to applicable law.

- a) Cboe Clear may suspend the provision of its services to Clearing Member.
- b) Cboe Clear may terminate its relationship with Clearing Member.
- c) Cboe Clear may inform one or more relevant Trading Venues that Cboe Clear will no longer Clear Trades for the account of Clearing Member.
- d) Cboe Clear may require Clearing Member to provide additional Margin and/or DF Contribution.
- e) Cboe Clear may declare one or more or all of the obligations of Clearing Member to be immediately due and payable.
- f) Cboe Clear may suspend the payment and delivery of cash and securities to Clearing Member and the settlement of Positions of Clearing Member.
- g) Cboe Clear may buy, borrow, sell and deliver securities and currencies and receive and make payments for the account of Clearing Member to fulfil settlement obligations.
- h) Cboe Clear may close out one or more Positions of Clearing Member on the basis of the latest available closing price on the primary Trading Venue or other representative market prices or on the basis of the price and costs actually paid or received by Cboe Clear for hedging or replacing such Positions.
- i) Cboe Clear may enter into transactions, by means of an auction or otherwise, in order to hedge Positions of Clearing Member or as replacement of Positions of Clearing Member that are either accelerated or closed.
- j) Cboe Clear may sell the Margin furnished by Clearing Member or otherwise apply such Margin against any losses suffered by Cboe Clear, provided that Cboe Clear may only use the proceeds or value of the Margin recorded on an Omnibus Client Margin Account and on an Individual Client Margin Account for a shortfall in the Position Account to which such Margin Account is connected.

- k) Cboe Clear may apply the Default Fund for any obligations of Clearing Member towards Cboe Clear, taking into account article 14.10 of this chapter 1.
- l) Cboe Clear may apply the pro rata amount of the value of the Interoperability Fund that has been contributed by Clearing Member for any obligations of Clearing Member towards Cboe Clear.
- m) Cboe Clear may obtain any advice or assistance, as Cboe Clear may reasonably require in connection with the Default of Clearing Member at the expense of Clearing Member.
- n) Cboe Clear may make use of its right of close out netting as specified in article 14.6 of this chapter 1.

14.5 Segregation and portability

At the start of the transfer period as specified in Regulation Portability, Cboe Clear will trigger the procedures for the transfer of the Positions and Margin that are recorded in the Omnibus Client Position Accounts and connected Omnibus Client Margin Accounts respectively in the Individual Client Position Accounts and connected Individual Client Margin Accounts of the Defaulting Clearing Member to other Clearing Members in accordance with and under the conditions as specified in Regulation Portability. In relation to the Positions and Margin that are recorded in Omnibus Client Position Accounts and Omnibus Client Margin Accounts respectively in Individual Client Position Accounts and Individual Client Margin Accounts of the Defaulting Clearing Member, Cboe shall only take the steps permitted by article 14.6 of this chapter 1 after termination of the transfer period as specified in Regulation Portability.

14.6 Close out netting

After a Notice of Default has been sent to Clearing Member, Cboe Clear may specify a date (the "Liquidation Date") for the close out and netting of all rights and obligations between Cboe Clear and Clearing Member. Cboe Clear will inform Clearing Member by Notice of the Liquidation Date.

However, where the Breach specified in article 13.1 (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), or (l) of this chapter 1, is governed by a system of law which does not permit termination to take place after the bankruptcy event in respect of Clearing Member, then the Liquidation Date in respect of all Positions will occur immediately upon the occurrence of the Breach specified in article 13.1 (g), (h), (i), (j), (k) and (l) of this chapter 1.

In such situation, the following applies.

- a) As per the Liquidation Date neither Cboe Clear nor Clearing Member shall be obliged to make any further payments or deliveries under any Position, in relation to Margin, or otherwise but shall be obliged to pay the Liquidation Amount(s);
- b) On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Liquidation Date, Cboe Clear will in relation to each separate Position Account and connected Margin Account, determine its total loss or, as the case may be, gain, in each case expressed in euro (and, if appropriate, including any cost of funding or, without duplication, cost, loss or, as the case may be, gain as a result of the termination, liquidation, obtaining, performing or re-establishing of any hedging positions or replacing positions), as a result of the termination of each payment or delivery which would otherwise have been required to be made under each Position in such Position Account (after having applied the value of any Margin in the related Margin Account), in each case, in Cboe Clear's discretion but having due regard to the price and costs of replacing Positions and, otherwise, such market quotations or prices published by a Trading Venue or other reputable pricing source as may be available on, or immediately preceding, the time of calculation, including the costs and losses, or gains, in respect of any payment or delivery required to have been made (assuming satisfaction of any applicable condition precedent) on or before the designated Liquidation Date and not made;

- c) Cboe Clear shall treat each amount owed to it in respect of a Position, as a negative amount and each amount owed by it, so determined in relation to a Position and in relation to the value of all related Margin, as a positive amount and will aggregate all of such amounts to produce a single, net positive or negative amount per Position Account and connected Margin Account which will be the Liquidation Amount (the "Liquidation Amount") of the respective Position Account and connected Margin Account; and
- d) Cboe Clear shall notify Clearing Member of the Liquidation Amount of each Position Account and connected Margin Account.

14.7 The Liquidation Amount of a House Position Account and connected Margin Account

If the Liquidation Amount of a House Position Account and connected Margin Account is a positive amount, Cboe Clear shall owe it to Clearing Member. If the Liquidation Amount of the House Position Account and connected Margin Account is a negative amount, Clearing Member shall owe such amount to Cboe Clear.

14.8 The Liquidation Amount of an Omnibus (Indirect) Client Position Account and connected Margin Account

If the Liquidation Amount of an Omnibus (Indirect) Client Position Account and connected Margin Account is a positive amount, Cboe Clear shall pay it to the relevant Clients of Clearing Member when they are known to Cboe Clear or, if they are not, to Clearing Member for the account of those Clients, provided the applicable conditions set out in Regulation Portability are met. If the Liquidation Amount of the Omnibus (Indirect) Client Position Account and connected Margin Account is a negative amount, Clearing Member shall owe such amount to Cboe Clear.

14.9 The Liquidation Amount of an Individual Client Position Account and connected Margin Account

If the Liquidation Amount of an Individual Client Position Account and connected Margin Account is a positive amount Cboe Clear shall pay it to the relevant Client when known to Cboe Clear or, if not, to Clearing Member for the account of the Client, provided the applicable conditions set out in Regulation Portability are met. If the Liquidation Amount of the Individual Client Position Account and connected Margin Account is a negative amount, Clearing Member shall owe such amount to Cboe Clear.

14.10 Remaining obligations

14.10.1 Any obligations of the Defaulting Clearing Member towards Cboe Clear that remain after the liquidation of each Position Account and connected Margin Account of the Defaulting Clearing Member, will be covered by Cboe Clear in the following way and order:

- a) Cboe Clear may apply the positive Liquidation Amount of a House Account and connected Margin Account of the Defaulting Clearing Member against any obligations of the Defaulting Clearing Member towards Cboe Clear. When applying the positive Liquidation Amount of a House Position Account and connected Margin Account, Cboe Clear will first apply such amount to the obligations of the Defaulting Clearing Member in relation to the Clearing Service of that particular House Position Account and connected Margin Account and only then to the obligations of the Defaulting Clearing Member in relation to the other Clearing Services; then
- b) Cboe Clear may apply the value of any Settlement Exposure Add-on and Settlement Prefunding provided by the Defaulting Clearing Member against any obligations of the Defaulting Clearing Member towards Cboe Clear; then 19.2.2 Clearing Member shall treat each amount owed to it in respect of a Position, as a positive amount and each amount owed by it in relation to a Position and the value of all related Margin, as a negative amount and will aggregate all such amounts to produce a single Net Account Value per Position Account and connected Margin Account.

8.5 Application of the Interoperability Fund

The Interoperability Fund will be applied when a Co-Operating CCP has recourse against the assets of the Interoperability Fund. Chapter 3. SFT Clearing

1. Clearing Members

1.1 Own account

A Clearing Member shall only act for its own risk and account and may not enter into any Trade on behalf of a Client of Clearing Member or have any interest in any SFT for the account of any other person.

1.2 Clearing Member status

A Clearing Member can be accepted as a Standard Clearing Member or as a Special Clearing Member in respect of SFT Clearing. A Clearing Member cannot be accepted as both a Standard Clearing Member and a Special Clearing Member at the same time. Regulation Clearing Members specifies which entities can be accepted as Standard Clearing Members and which entities can be specified as Special Clearing Members and the requirements that apply in relation to Standard Clearing Members and Special Clearing Members.

1.3 Special Clearing Member

1.3.1 A Special Clearing Member is only allowed to act as Lender.

1.3.2 A Special Clearing Member is, notwithstanding any other provision in the Clearing Rules, not required to provide Margin and is not required to provide DF Contribution.

1.3.3 A Special Clearing Member that is a UCITS will receive title to RQV Assets under the condition that the RQV Assets are simultaneously pledged to Cboe Clear.

1.3.4 All other Special Clearing Members will receive Security over the RQV Assets and no legal title to the RQV Assets.

1.3.5 RQV Assets in relation to SFTs for which the Lender is a Special Clearing Member, shall be held with a TPCA at all times.

1.4 Agent

An Agent may act on behalf of a Special Clearing Member provided such Agent has been authorised by the Special Clearing Member for this purpose by the execution of a power of attorney in form and content satisfactory to Cboe Clear. If an Agent acts on behalf of a Special Clearing Member, then, in relation to SFT Clearing, Cboe Clear will be entitled to only accept (and rely on) instructions from, and only provide information to, such Agent and not from or to the Special Clearing Member itself (other than an instruction from a Special Clearing Member that its representation by its Agent has been terminated).

1.5 Security Agent

Unless otherwise agreed between such Special Clearing Member and Cboe Clear, each Special Clearing Member shall appoint an entity to act as its Security Agent for the purpose of holding Security provided by Cboe Clear over RQV Assets by entering into an agreement with such entity (a "Security Agency Agreement") which complies with the following requirements:

- a) the Security Agency Agreement shall contain an express appointment of the Security Agent by the relevant Lender to hold its rights under the relevant Pledgee Lender Security Agreement or Intermediate Pledge Security Agreement and the pledges over the RQV Assets created thereby for the benefit of such Lender and such other Lenders that have appointed the Security Agent for the same purpose and are party to such Security Agency Agreement. Depending on the governing law of the Security Agency Agreement, the agreement will need to include appropriate provisions ensuring that the pledges cannot form part of the insolvency or bankruptcy estate of the Security Agent. This may, for example, require including a provision stating the pledges are held on trust;
- b) the Security Agency Agreement must clearly define the Security Agent's authority, including its rights, powers, authorities, and discretions in relation to the relevant Pledgee Lender Security Agreement or Intermediate Pledge Security Agreement;
- c) to the extent that the Security Agent must act in accordance with the instructions of an instructing group of Lenders (for example in agreeing to amend any term of a Pledgee Lender Security Agreement or Intermediate Pledge Security Agreement), this must be clearly set out;
- d) the Security Agent must in particular have the right to rely on information from Cboe Clear as to which RQV Assets are allocated to any given Lender and any such information must be binding on all relevant Lenders;
- e) the Security Agency Agreement must provide that, following Cboe Clear's insolvency or default, the Security Agent will rely on the RQV Asset allocations most recently provided by Cboe Clear at that time;
- f) the circumstances in which the Security Agent must enforce the Security will need to be clearly defined (i.e., on the instructions of individual Lenders) with the steps to be taken on enforcement being consistent with the Pledgee Lender Security Agreement or Intermediate Pledge Security Agreement, as the case may be, and in particular the enforcement restrictions set out in the relevant Pledgee Lender Security Agreement or Intermediate Pledge Security Agreement;
- g) the Security Agent will need to be entitled to such information as it requires from a Lender in order to know whether the pledges have become enforceable in accordance with their terms and the amount of the secured liabilities owed to each Lender;
